Comments: Ardan is the last Elf on the planet Tyr. He is unsure of himself and his future. He is well illustrated as a confused young man whos life has just taken a complete unexpected turn. The lettering done in transparent word balloons looks amazing. The Temple of Ithra is majestically drawn. It certainly grabs your attention. Master Dwarf is Ardan's teacher and he puts him through his paces. He pushes Ardan to become better as he must to fight the Horde. The Horde's space ships are a futuristic sight of wonder. Its skill vs future tech. Cyborgs vs humoniod know how. Dwarves and elves vs metal parts. Loed of the Rings meets Star Wars. Keegan is a cute girl who can really kick butt. She joins Ardan on his journey. Ardan the elf warrior has been thrust into a war he didn't even know existed. Now trained as a samurai he flees the Horde. Why is this ef warrior so important? He is the last Elf. The Master Dwarf hints at a power beyond physical skills. Ardan is not portrayed as a larger than life hero. He has flaws, He is human, well actly an elf but a normal type of guy. He just wanted to live out his life with his family but that has all changed. His adventure has just begun.

Comments: The use of bright colors amongst all the greys makes it stand out. The space ships have a wonderful futuristic look. The attention to detail in the background is amazing.

Ardan and Keegan seem to be enjoying their journey. He is learning more of the world and she is enjoying being away from the tavern she works in and out in the world. The way fantasy Lord of the Rings combines with Star Wars technology does give this comic a unique and fasinating look.

Where else but here could you find a cybernetically mutated enhanced troll fighting a woman warrior who walks between air molecules so she can lessen the resistance to her body and move faster. Talk about original and using the imagination.

The Island nation of Arma is a beautiful site. This fortress is illustrated to perfection.

Ardan and Keegan now these two and their developing relationship are well worth watching. They are going from just meeting, to friends and maybe more.

Catalina is one cute pirate girl. She is a Vyndl an off shoot of elves.

Two futuristic motorcycles make for one action filled scene. Keegan does have some moves. She is illustrated as a dynamic dynamo.

The adventure continues and the suspense as to where it will lead just keeps building.
